RE: Allwall Contracting, Inc.

Gentlemen:

I am pleased to recommend All Wall Contracting to you. This fine subcontracting firm does the majority of our metal framing, drywall, sound insulation, taping finish, and painting on our projects. Recently, they completed Post Falls City Hall for us which had numerous errors in the original plans that they helped resolved with minimal cost and time delays. It also has a thirty foot rotunda with a mirrored concrete floor, radius walls radius ceiling, and up lighting that really shows the joints if they are not done properly. The City was thrilled with the outcome of the work, and it is featured in many publications. Their upfront planning and willingness to resolve potential impacts were instrumental in the success of this project for both the owner and Ginno Construction.

All Wall Contracting is technically qualified to complete any work it undertakes and enjoys a reputation for excellence. They strive to deliver their product precisely within the terms of the contractual arrangements and have never failed to meet our commitments.

Should you require further elaboration in connection with All Wall's performance or reputation, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Respectfully,
